

City Finance Director announces retirement

Mary Mannix Decker, City of Springfield Finance Director, announces her retirement effective July 22.

Mannix Decker joined the City of Springfield Finance Department in 1999 as the Budget Administrator, responsible for the development of the City's annual operating budget. In April 2002, she was promoted to Assistant Director, before accepting the role of Finance Director in October 2004. She is currently responsible for the five divisions of the Finance Department: Accounting, Budget & Evaluation, Licensing, Purchasing and the Print Shop.

During Mannix Decker's tenure, the City's Finance Department received the Government Finance Officers Association's Distinguished Budget Presentation award, eight years in a row. In order to receive the budget award, the City had to satisfy nationally recognized guidelines for effective budget presentation. These guidelines are designed to assess how well the City's budget serves as a policy document, financial plan, an operations guide and a communications device.

Under Mannix Decker's guidance, the City's Finance Department has continued to receive a Certificate of Achievement for Excellence in Financial Reporting from the Government Finance Officers' Association.

"Mary Mannix Decker is one of those special leaders who can explain complex issues in a way that you don't feel dumb for asking the question," said City Manager Greg Burris. "Not only has she successfully led the fiscal management of arguably one of the most complex organizations in the region, but has done so with a caring touch. The many awards, along with the fact that the City of Springfield's bond rating actually rose during the recent recession, speaks to the high-quality work of Mary and her team. The City of Springfield has been so fortunate to have someone like Mary at the financial helm for so many years.”

Mannix Decker is proud of her work with the City Manager and Leadership Team to consistently pass a balanced budget without dipping into reserves. This occurred during and since the recession, with reserve levels increasing.

“What I like about working in local government is that the work you’re doing translates into improvements in the community that are very visible. The stronger the City’s financial condition, the more we can accomplish,” she said. “I appreciate what all of our departments do to provide strong fiscal management. I value all of the friendships that I’ve made here.”

9-1-1 Director Zim Schwartz named Director of the Year by international association

The Association of Public-Safety Communications Officials (APCO) International announced the winners of the 2016 Public Safety Communications Awards and Technology in Leadership Awards on Friday,

May 20. Springfield-Greene County.

9-1-1 Emergency Communications Director Zim Schwartz was named APCO International Director of the Year.

Schwartz will be recognized during the opening general session at the 2016 APCO Annual Conference & Expo taking place Aug. 14-17 in Orlando, Florida.

Schwartz joined Springfield-Greene County 9-1-1 Emergency Communications in 2013, after retiring as a captain from the Columbia Police Department. While in Columbia, she also served as the director of the Boone County Joint Communications 9-1-1 and Office of Emergency Management for several years.

“As a city, we are very fortunate to have Zim’s wealth of experience in law enforcement, emergency management and emergency communications in Springfield,” said City Manager Greg Burris.

Schwartz has a master’s degree in public administration and a bachelor’s degree in industrial engineering, both from the University of Missouri-Columbia. She is a graduate of the 204th School of Police Staff and Command (SPSC) through Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois and the FBI National Academy, Session 231, in Quantico, Virginia.

She is an adjunct instructor at the Law Enforcement Training Institute located in Columbia as well as in the Northwestern University SPSC classes. Schwartz is a member of the three state 9-1-1 organizations and currently serves as the treasurer of the Missouri 9-1-1 Directors Association.

In addition, Schwartz is a past president of the Kansas-Western Missouri Chapter of the FBI National Academy Associates and a member of the University of Missouri Harry S. Truman School of Public Affairs Advisory Board.

Schwartz has volunteered her time with Special Olympics-Missouri for nearly 25 years. She serves on the Law Enforcement Torch Run Committee and is the chair of the State Summer Games held in Springfield each year.

Schwartz and her husband, Jay, have two children and numerous family pets.

“Thank you to all of our award winners for your service above and beyond the call of duty,” said Brent Lee, president of APCO International. “And thank you to the nominators for participating in this program and recognizing those who make an impact in our communities.”

APCO International is the world’s oldest and largest organization of public safety communications professionals and supports the largest U.S. membership base of any public safety association. It serves the needs of public safety communications practitioners worldwide – and the welfare of the general public as a whole.

Mark your calendar: Courthouse Choral to perform at noon on Monday, June 27

EPA grant to fund green jobs for Zone 1 residents

A $200,000 grant from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's Environmental Workforce Development and Job Training program will provide job opportunities to residents of some of Springfield's most underserved neighborhoods.

The grant, awarded to Springfield's Missouri Job Center, will be used to recruit, train and place local unemployed and underemployed individuals in full-time, sustainable, green jobs in a range of environmental fields. According to the Job Center Senior Workforce Development Specialist Isaac Weber, the funds should arrive in October with training to begin in early 2017. Weber is leading the project and encourages those interested in applying for the program to contact him at the Job Center at 417-887-4343.

The grant is one of only 18 nationwide as part of a $3.5 million total package, and is expected to provide funding to train at least 56 eligible residents from 19 census tracts within the Springfield city limits, with the goal of placing at least 35 trained workers into the local job market in specialized green jobs. Neighborhoods included in the 19 census tracts identified are Bingham, Doling Park, Downtown, Ewing, Fairfield Acres/Bissett, Fassnight, Grant Beach, Heart of the Westside, Midtown, Robberson, Rountree/Walnut, Tom Watkins, Weller, West Central, Westside and Woodland Heights.

The positions will include site cleanup, ecological restoration and lead and asbestos abatement at brownfields remediation projects at an average rate of $15 per hour, Weber said.

"We are pleased to receive this award and think it will help our Zone Blitz (springfieldmo.gov/zoneblitz) efforts to secure jobs for residents in our under-resourced areas of the community," said City Manager Greg Burris. Burris said the departments of Workforce Development and Planning & Development worked together to secure the grant for the Job Center.

Operated by the City of Springfield's Workforce Development department, the Missouri Job Center is located at 2900 E. Sunshine and serves Greene County and six surrounding Ozarks counties: Christian, Dallas, Polk, Stone, Taney and Webster.

City's Brownfields Program, which works to assess, clean up and facilitate private development of potentially contaminated properties within the city of Springfield.

Specific training offered through the new training program will include certifications in OSHA Hazwoper; OSHA 10; Environmental Sampling and Monitoring; Trenching and Excavation; Confined Space; Lead Renovation, Repair and Painting (RRP); Lead Abatement Worker; Asbestos Worker/Handler; Stormwater Management; Forklift Driver; First Aid/CPR; and Commercial Driver's License (CDL).

"These training classes are the keys to full-time, green jobs that pay well because they are in demand," EPA Regional Administrator Mark Hague said. "For communities like Springfield, this helps build a workforce that can reclaim and revitalize environmentally challenged properties to benefit the community."

According to Mary Ann Rojas, City of Springfield Workforce Development director, partners in the Missouri Job Center's implementation of the grant include the Ozark Region Workforce Investment Board, Environmental Works, Gerken Environmental, Southwest Missouri Safety Company LLC, C1 Truck Driver Training, Bryan University, and Greenfield Environmental Trust Group Inc.

Additional support was provided by Zone 1 City Councilwoman Phyllis Ferguson, City of Springfield Planning & Development and Economic Development staff members Olivia Hough, Sarah Kerner, Randall Whitman and Alyssa Ahner, City of Springfield Environmental Services department staff, the Neighborhood Advisory Council, the Drew Lewis Foundation, Sunbelt Environmental Services, Inc., Keystone Building and Design, Euticals, Vocational Rehabilitation, K-State TAB program, OACAC Head Start, Community Partnership of the Ozarks, Springfield Area Chamber of Commerce, Missouri Department of Natural Resources and Preferred Family Healthcare.

Since EPA launched the EWDJT grant program in 1998, more than 256 grants have been awarded exceeding a total of $54 million. Approximately 14,700 individuals have completed training, and of those, more than 10,600 individuals have been placed in full-time employment with an average starting hourly wage of $14.34. This equates to a cumulative job placement rate of nearly 72% of graduates.

Springfield Municipal Court implements new bailiff uniform

Springfield Municipal Court Bailiffs are no longer wearing a dress jacket, dress shirt and slacks as they have in the past. According to Municipal Court Bailiffs Randy H. Greer, Larry Barnts and Tina Sides, the new uniform is "more comfortable and practical." Bailiffs requested the new courtroom attire through Judge Todd Thornhill and the request was quickly approved. "We are not interested in looking like policemen, however if the uniform deters inappropriate behavior, the similarity is worth it," said one bailiff.

Outdoor pools open for the season

The Springfield-Greene County Park Board's six outdoor pools opened for the 2016 season Saturday, May 28.

Throughout the season, each pool is open six days a week, 1-6:30 p.m., through Sunday, Aug. 14 (Fassnacht and Grant Beach pools reopen for weekends only after school begins). Maintenance days are staggered Monday through Wednesday, and all outdoor pools are open Thursday through Sunday. A schedule is posted at ParkBoard.org/Aquatics.

"We have at least five pools open every day of the week, including indoor facilities at Chesterfield and Doling Family Centers," said Marc Baker, Aquatics Coordinator for the Park Board. "All eight pools are open Thursdays through Sundays, so there are plenty of options to choose from."

McGee/McGregor Wading Pool, for children 6 and under, operates different hours: Tuesday-Saturday, 10 a.m.-12 p.m. and 1-4 p.m., and Sunday 1-4 p.m. Admission there is free.

Fassnacht Pool has been freshly repainted for the season, a project that took 225 gallons of Brilliant White epoxy paint and about 240 man hours.

Meador Pool, closed for most of the 2015 season due to a major leak, is now repaired and ready for a busy season.

The Park Board completely renovated Fassnacht (2009), Silver Springs (2010), Grant Beach (2011) and Westport (2012) with funds from the voter-approved 2006 Parks Sales Tax, adding splash features, slides and other amenities. The former outdoor Doling Pool was replaced by the Doling Indoor Aquatics Facility in 2013.

Daily outdoor pool admission is $3/adults, $2.50/youth and seniors.

Food Harvest. Discount coupon books and season passes are available.

Outdoor pool admission prices apply at the indoor aquatics facilities at Chesterfield and Doling Family Centers, 1-6:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday. Outside of these hours, indoor aquatics facilities admission is $6/youth and seniors, $8/adults, or $22/family.

MONDAY, JULY 4

INDEPENDENCE DAY

SPLASH & SIZZLE

Splash & Sizzle events return to select pools on Independence Day and Labor Day, plus Friday and Saturday evenings in July, with all-day $1 admission, or free with a canned food item. In 2015, Splash & Sizzle and after-5:30 admissions generated 9,609 lbs. — almost five tons — of canned food items for Ozarks Food Harvest, providing 8,007 meals.

Detailed information about each pool, schedules, swimming lessons, pool rules, swim team and more is available in the 2016 Summer Aquatics program guide, found at ParkBoard.org/Aquatics. For more information, call the Aquatics Hotline at 417-864-2099.

FOLLOW THE GOLDEN GOOSE

It is my honor to present the Golden Goose award to Chelcie as she is always helpful in assisting me with my questions regarding requisitions and PO's, and does so in a timely manner with a positive and cheerful attitude. If she doesn't know the answer, she directs me to someone who can help me. She is always professional and exemplifies teamwork and pride in the job she does for the City. It has been my privilege to work with her.

Kris Heinrichs, Public Works

I am pleased to pass the "Golden Goose Award" to Nichole Plowman. She is always my "go to" person if I need help with CityShare or CivicPlus and I truly appreciate all of her help because without her I would've been completely lost. She always knows the solution to my problems and she always has a sweet and cheerful attitude. It is a pleasure to work with her and I am so thankful for all she does to make sure our website looks amazing and that everything runs smoothly.

Chelcie Kimzey, Finance

I am pleased to present the Golden Goose to Jody Vernon. I have been very fortunate to work with Jody on several projects and she has always been very helpful, professional and has a positive attitude. Jody helps me and many others understand proper financial procedures and keep the City PCI compliant! Jody's value as a City employee is priceless!

Nichole Plowman, Information Systems

To suggest a colleague for "Do You Know...?"
e-mail thescene@springfieldmo.gov.

Sheila Kerley Traffic Services Officer

Sheila has worked for the City for 8 years.

What's the hardest part of your job?

"Being responsible for controlling an intersection, while keeping drivers, pedestrians, other officers and myself safe."

What's the coolest thing you've done in your career?

"Being a role player for police recruit training and knowing they will be the future seasoned officers I will have the opportunity to work with."

What gives you satisfaction?

"Satisfaction on the job is when you can 'close a call' and everyone involved is happy!"

What do you admire about this organization?

"The importance the City places on making Springfield a great place to live and raise a family."

Who do you admire in this organization?

"Hands down my husband. He is also employed by the City of Springfield (Police). He is an amazing person, and I have yet to meet a person who thinks otherwise. His job as the range coordinator doesn't end when he comes home. He is always taking phone calls or responding to texts and assisting other officers/colleagues when they are seeking firearm help or advice. He NEVER complains about that aspect of his job. He makes me a better person!"

What's something that Springfield as a city should strive for?

"Supporting a positive atmosphere and working environment for employees. Happy employees are much more effective in their jobs."

WORKING WITH THE COMMUNITY Awards & Recognition

To: Chris Straw, Gary Hilton, Building Development Services

Just a belated note to compliment your department on having such helpful and kind employees such as Gary Hilton.

About a week after he inspected the installation of my water heater, it occurred to me that I might be able to receive compensation from my insurance company because the loss was due to flooding. When I called Mr. Hilton, he said he would research the documentation I needed. Within three days, he left an envelope tucked in my doorway with the needed papers. Please express my thanks to him.

Sincerely, Lyne Young

To: Det. Scott Hill, Cpl. Rob Schroeder and Patrol Squad 8

(Regarding a missing person report)

Thank you so much for everyone who looked for my daughter, Whitney Sisco, and prayed for her. Our community rocks! Thank you to the Springfield Police Department for acting so soon! I am forever grateful.

Sincerely, Mary Hunt

To: Officer Mardie Keller

I would like to give a big THANK YOU to Officer Keller. She has been dispatched to my home a few different times due to an intelligent teenager. She not only was professional, but had compassion. She needs to be recognized for the awesome officer she is!

Sincerely, Amber Clark

To: Judge Todd Thornhill

Please accept the Supreme Court's profound thanks for your service on its Municipal Division Work Group. The Court recognizes your extraordinary efforts in digesting the enormous volume of materials on the complex issues before you, your diplomacy working with multiple individuals and entities, and your wisdom, experience, and impartiality in determining appropriate recommendations to the Court.

The great importance of the issues facing this work group required a team of individuals whose credentials were recognized and respected and who were willing to commit the time and energy necessary to complete the tasks assigned. The Court was, indeed, fortunate that you accepted the challenge. Thank you for your service to Missouri's judiciary.

Sincerely, Patricia Breckenridge,
